General Comments:	Summer presented a lesson on sin and cos which included some review and the introduction of new material. Her review was active and the students participated well. She has an excellent rapport with students - a good mix of humor and respect. The introduction of new material was presented in a logical, easy to follow manner and she made sure the students understood by doing a continual formative assessment. During independent assignment work, she walked around the room checking on everyone and providing guidance as needed. Summer did an excellent job with her lesson.
